Earth Friendly

Each time a human being dies, a tree dies.

Millions of trees are cut every year to produce coffins. While cellulose made of wood fibers remain our material of choice, by using state-of-the art technology and smart design, we substantially reduce carbon footprint of our products and contribute to preventing deforestation.

Saving The Planet

All cellulose fibers used in making the material for BluCoffins come from renewable sources - FSC®-certified forest crops.

Saving Forests

BluCoffin cellulose construction uses 3-4 times less wood to produce compared to traditional wooden coffins weighing approx. 45 kg.

Saving Fuel

Thanks to the low weight (approx. 10 kg) and flat-packed on-pallet delivery BluCoffins help save fuel during transportation.

Production Waste

All production waste is fully recycled, meeting our stringent factory standards.

Low-emission Burning

BluCoffins are made from natural material and feature low CO₂ and toxic gases (NO, NOx) emissions in burning. The substrate is free from harmful glues or hazardous varnishes.

Atramenty ekologiczne

Farby używane do drukowania trumien BluCoffin nie zawierają chemikaliów niszczących warstwę ozonową i są wolne od węglowodorów aromatycznych i lotnych rozpuszczalników.

Heavy load without visible destruction

Our Advanced Crossfiber Frame (ACF) design delivers excellent structural strength of our coffins. We conducted a load test, placing 30 sandbags, approx. 10 kg each, inside the coffin. No signs of visible destruction appeared, even after 3 days.

- Coffin dimensions are maximum external measures of the product, regardless of the model
- The difference between coffin external dimensions and body size comes from construction (e.g. wall and leak-proof insert thickness).
